District Announces Updated Schedule for End of the 2016-2017 School Year

UPDATED: Newfane, New York, March 17, 2017: The Newfane Central School District is announcing the schedule for student attendance for the end of the school year.

Due to the USE OF 3 weather emergency days, the District will need to adjust the last day of attendance for the elementary and middle schools; however, unless we use additional weather emergency days, we will be closed on Friday, May 26, and Monday, May 29 in observance of the Memorial Day holiday.

The last full day of classes for the High School will be Monday, June 12, 2017; all students are expected to be in attendance that day. Regents and other final examinations will be scheduled from June 13 through the 22; the specific exam schedule will be posted as we get closer to those dates. During the period of June 13 through 22, students should only be in attendance at the high school if they have a scheduled examination.

The last full day of classes for the Middle School will be Tuesday, June 20, 2017; Monday, June 19 and Tuesday, June 20 will be full days of attendance at the Middle School for final examinations. The specific exam schedule will be published as we get closer to those dates.

The last day of attendance for Newfane Elementary School and the Newfane Early Childhood Center will be Tuesday, June 20 for both buildings. This will be a full day of attendance.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding this schedule, please contact your building principal.
